

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A composition comprising particles of filamentous fungus and a proteinaceous material, especially gluten, is described. Inclusion of the filamentous fungus increases the time required for the gluten to develop texture which may make it easier to blend in order ingredients, desired in a foodstuff, into the gluten.